

AP English 11 Summer Reading 2017/2018

Every student taking AP Language and Composition for the 2017/2018 school year is expected to read two books over the summer—both non-fiction.

Students are asked to read the books over the summer and to be prepared for digging deeper into text the first two weeks of school, ending with an assessment. We want the kids reading this summer without the chore of an assignment, but it is imperative students read before the beginning of school.

Required for all students:

Heinrichs, Jay - Thank You for Arguing

- note: make sure it is the paperback second edition

Second non-fiction selection (pick ONE):

Albom, Mitch - Tuesday's with Morrie

Cullen Dave – Columbine

Dawson, George – Life Is So Good

Kalanithi, Paul – When Breath Becomes Air

McBride, James - The Color of Water: A Black Man's Tribute to His White Mother
